PROFILE

I am a designer, illustrator, and front-end developer. I love creating aesthetically pleasing, functional web products with rock-solid code. Turning complex problems into simple beautiful and intuitive interface designs with more than 4 years experience. I focus on HTML, CSS, Javascript (jQuery, React.js, Node.js) WordPress for UI/UX Design. I am eager to learn about all the JavaScript frameworks and libraries that seem to come out on a weekly basis. I round out my technical skills with a unique professional background in business and education. That means I understand the bigger picture of how design, UX, and code work together that is how I create the most unique web experiences.
